

U.E.M.S. is the largest European Medical Association representing approximately 2.000.000 of Medicine Specialists in Europe

Established in 1958, UEMS has produced a good number of papers on quality of care as “ Promoting good medicale care “, or “ Charter on quality assurance “, or “ Budapest declaration “.

The Working Group Quality of Patient care & Specialists Training underlined that new technologies are daily approaching and consequently transforming Medicine and medical specialists.

U.E.M.S. needs to follow new therapeutic addresses as our main aim is to take care of patients: of course, it's absolutely necessary to prevent that Medical Specialists would become technicians without to be able to hold the leadership to these changes.

In the last live WG, on London, we discussed about Babylon app and how would be Medicine after introduction of this or similar application.

Covid-19 world pandemia accelerated this process, and now All Specialists are using telematic technologies, gaining fast decisions, but reducing any contact with patients...

Maybe they don't remember that Medicine is not a science but a technic that avail scientific research

This means that Specialists are improving day by day their knowledge, as technologies are opening a window on future.
